

I am a feminist and an environmentalist. I work as a volunteer trail docent in Golden Gate Park. I love the job. I have studied music, film, and dance at City College of San Francisco. I like rock, pop, country and classical music. In my spare time, I like hanging out with my friends.

My art is a reflection of my emotional responses to the world around me. I paint with Acrylic and Watercolor paints with expressive brushstrokes and bold colors. I am inspired by Pablo Picasso and Jackson Pollock. I attend art classes taught by professional artists at Root Division Gallery. I am a member of the Art Guild of Pacifica, and I have shown my work in their members exhibitions. Recently, one of my paintings was accepted into the Peninsula Jewish Community Center's Community Art Show Juried Exhibition. My painting is currently on display in the Community Center lobby.
