PETER S.

People may not know...
that my nickname is Sneaky Pete!

I love eating cookies!

INTROVERT, FUNNY, DIVA....

Bridging Communities Through Alternative Communication

A visit with my friend Thanh!

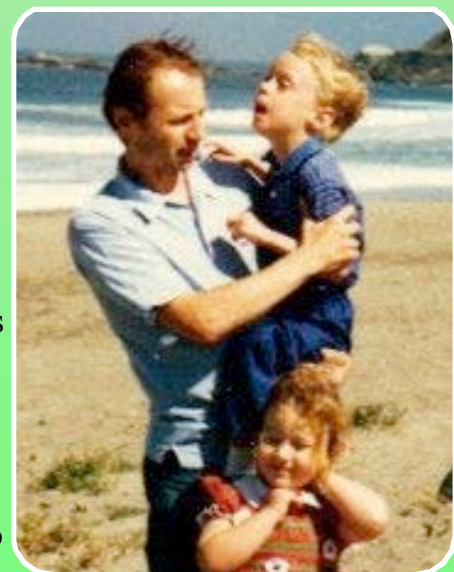

My name is Peter, but most people call me Pete. This one guy even calls me Sneaky Pete, because I pretend to sleep if something is boring. Yikes, I didn't think anyone was on to me!

I have Cerebral Palsy, and use a wheelchair to get around. I'm a busy guy, and am out in the community every day with my friends at The Arc of San Francisco.

I have two sisters who are sooo fun! The three of us have the same sense of humor. I live with my mom and dad in San Francisco, but they are originally from Eastern Europe. I love listening to their accents! We are a really close-knit family, and I get a lot of support from them. I also have two Shih Tzu dogs, and we all get a good laugh when the younger one chases my dad and sister around. She's ferocious! I love music! You can count on me boogieing down to La Bouche's "Rhythm of the Night" and anything by Michael Jackson. I was in the first graduating class at The Bridge School, and have been able to meet a lot of my favorite musicians over the years at the benefit concerts. It's no big deal, but Eddie Vedder knows me by name. Ok that's a kinda big deal.

Life is good, and I'm grateful I have awesome friends to share it with!

My dad, sister, and me at the beach.
